From Secretary's Desk

Greetings from LOK SWAR,

Since its foundation in 2000, LOK SWAR has prioritized the development of society's vulnerable and marginalized groups. The promotion of overall development of the society meant focusing on matters related to the most vulnerable and marginalized section of the society thus enabling them with an ecosystem to flourish thus enhancing the socioeconomic standing of the focused communities.

Any organization's vision and mission should be centred on sustainable development—that is, building for and with people. Without a doubt, a grass-roots NGO's role must be limited to that of a facilitator and enabler, helping individuals develop necessary skills to lead a dignified life by understanding, managing, and profiting from the livelihood activities around them.

LOK SWAR, in past and at present, being a responsible grassroots organization, constantly supported the vulnerable and marginalized to take informed decision about their life's developments by capacitating with training programs, workshops on various social, economic scenarios, connecting them with governments schemes & entitlements, convergence for livelihood opportunities.

The annual report of FY 2022-23 is dedicated to the” International Year of Glass” to shine a light on a traditional, sustainable, and innovative technology. We at LOK SWAR do believe that the vulnerable section of the society has an ability to mould a country's progress if they are well taken care of just like glasses. This year annual report showcases our work and its impact on the lives of thousands we have touched. We are on our continuous effort to improve the life of thousands through the thematic areas we are working on such as Women & Child empowerment through education, health, & livelihood, and focusing on creation of an enabling ecosystem for those by focusing on natural resource management and sustainable livelihood.

We are grateful to all our donors, board members, and employees for helping Lok Sarva move closer to achieving its objectives.

Shalini Samvedna
Secretary

LOK SWAR, formed in 2000 by female activists from Dhurwa, had its roots in a prior informal association dedicated to social development, especially women's issues. Officially registered under the Indian Trusts Act 1882, it has since focused on uplifting vulnerable and marginalized communities & section of the society. Its inaugural governing body meeting occurred in 1999, marking its foundational moment. Prior to its establishment, the founders had been involved in various social causes for over a decade. Their collective aim was to create a society devoid of caste, class, exploitation, and injustice, striving to meet everyone's basic needs with dignity.

Mission

Expand the network of constructive initiatives to Better India free from poverty, backwardness, ignorance, and injustice.

Vision

Create a society without caste or class divisions, free from exploitation and oppression, ensuring everyone's basic needs are met with dignity.

Goal

Facilitate marginalized voices to transcend traditional barriers

Prioritize the creation of healthy citizens within the communities we serve.

Collaborate with government and like-minded agencies to advance human welfare via rural and urban development initiatives.

To this end, LOK SWAR

Female Empowerment

Work towards empowering women socially, economically and politically and ensure gender equality/justice in all walks of female life.

Children Empowerment

Work towards equipping, empowering the children with viable ecosystem to build a better future.

Natural Resource Management & Sustainable livelihood

Work towards conservation and natural resource management thus ensuring sustainable livelihood opportunities for the vulnerable & marginalized communities.

2022-2023 Year at a Glance

LOK SWAR is in its mission of transforming lives of people which is evident in its numbers. This section showcases the overview of what we as an organization has reached in the FY 2022-2023. The detailed coverage project wise can be seen in the report ahead.

5789 Female lives impacted.

4538 Children lives touched.

650 No Child Marriage Ambassadors prepared.

370 scholarships supported.

1445 farmers reached.

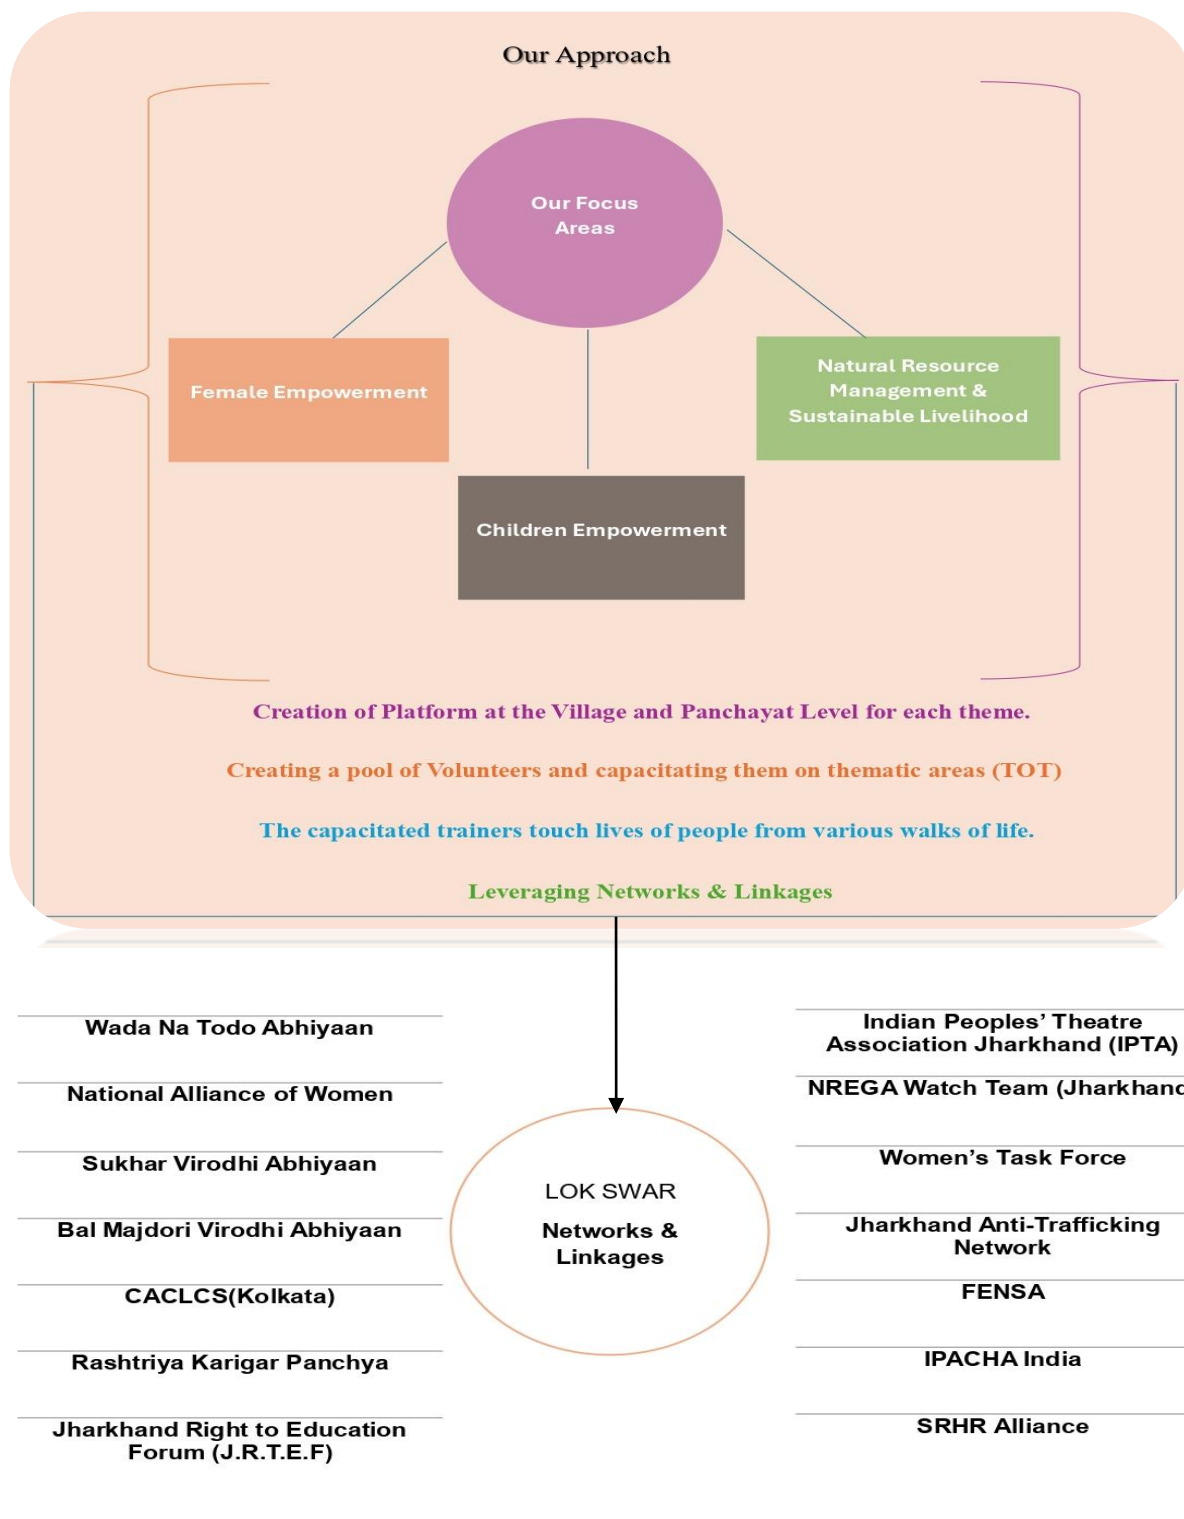

1231 ha of land supported with sustainable agricultural package of practices.

Awards & Recognition

- Awarded as best organization of Jharkhand for creating awareness about consumer rights by Department of Food.
- One of the board members was awarded “GURUDEO SHARAN AWARD” by Rotary Club, Jharkhand for selfless service towards underprivileged people of Jharkhand.
- 1525 Women supported by LOK SWAR has started their own business or connected to livelihood opportunities.

Our Approach

Our approach derives its genesis from the organization's goal. To improve the lives of vulnerable and marginalized section of the society, we focus on holistic approach under the thematic heads to ensure sustainability solutions to the section we are impacting.

Female Empowerment

For the empowerment of females from various age groups, LOK SWAR has been dedicatedly working across districts in Jharkhand state.

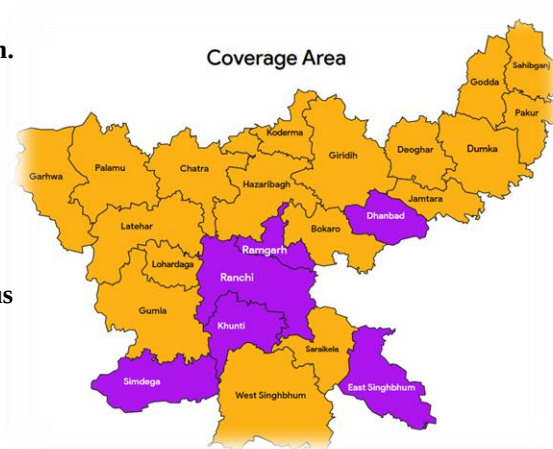

4387 People reached through awareness creation.

120 community leaders established.

1525 women supported in connecting to various livelihood and social security schemes.

Supported by Girls First Fund, LOK SWAR promoted girl leadership and has created a safe haven for girls in the community through trainings, meetings, workshops, exposure visits, signature campaigns, street plays, sports activities, awareness creation campaign on child marriage in order to promote girls leadership and create pool of volunteers.

We not only ensured individual support cases in terms of stopping child marriage but worked with community to shift mindset through intense discussions, meetings, and various awareness creation measures. Thus ensuring and freeing one village at a time with recognition of

“NO CHILD MARRIAGE VILLAGE”

Aditi, 15, found herself faced with the bleak possibility of being married off as a child in Khunti District, Jharkhand, a custom that was strongly ingrained in her society. Her parents' arrangement to marry an older man put her aspirations of continuing her education in jeopardy.

Aditi confided in her school teacher, who reached out to LOK SWAR, that supports the empowerment of women and children, as a desperate measure. LOK SWAR stepped in and had a conversation with Aditi's parents about the negative consequences of child marriage and the value of education, spearheaded by social worker Meera. To change attitudes, they also conducted community seminars and got the backing of the local authorities.

Through their youth programs, LOK SWAR gave Aditi the empowerment to go from being a helpless victim to an engaged agent of change. Aditi's parents finally decided to call off the wedding and let her go back to school after several weeks of steadfast attempts. Her bravery inspired others, and the community started to reevaluate the custom of child marriage.

Aditi went back to school and started mentoring other girls. With the help of LOK SWAR, she excelled academically and wanted to work as a social worker, aiming to end child marriage and give others more authority. Aditi's story is a prime example of the transformative power of activism, education, and support in changing people's lives and communities.

“Creating Brand Ambassadors of No Child Marriage”

Setyeng Dainel, a 25-year-old mother of three from the quaint village of Argodi in Khunti, embodies resilience amidst adversity. Wed at tender 16, she bore the weight of a troubled marriage, her husband's penchant for alcohol fuelling domestic strife. Amidst her trials, she toiled as a homemaker, supplementing meagre earnings by gathering dry wood for sustenance, and venturing her wares at local markets. Despite her plight, she found solace in the camaraderie of village women, her spirit undaunted. Through a transformative five-day training in sabui grass foot matting, her dormant talents flourished. Today, her nimble fingers weave prosperity, earning her Rs 150-200 daily, a beacon of hope illuminating her children's educational dreams.

“Increasing earning for Better Future”.

Through continuous efforts & engagement with influencers group, Pri member, 7 Gram pradhans of 7 villages & 1 mukheya have passed resolution, they have given written affidavit for declaring their villages as no child marriage/ child marriage prohibited area.

LOK SWAR stands for the cause it supports and thus runs its own self supported programs to create a platform for the women to stand for themselves by capacitating them socially, economically, and politically to make an informed decision for the betterment of their own life as well as their families.

“A leadership initiative is being run by the organization that educates women about their rights and helps them become community leaders.”

They have become socially aware and thus have been able to leverage various government schemes and entitlements.

Self-Supported Programs	Activities	Coverage
“Equipping women with skills for livelihood enhancement”	Vocational trainings on Tailoring, handicrafts, digital literacy	24 villages in 6 districts of Jharkhand
“Capacitating adolescent girls on Sexual and reproductive health and rights”	Workshops, one-to-one mentoring	35 villages in 6 districts of Jharkhand

Children Empowerment

Children, one of the most vulnerable sections of the society requires support in terms of education, query resolutions, career guidance, so that they take a dedicated path and makes a bright future for themselves.

2945 children reached through workshops, training sessions, one-to-one mentoring.

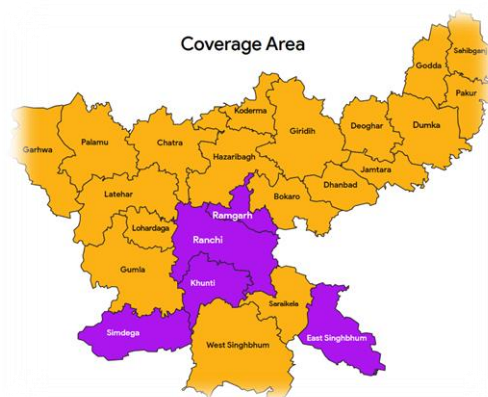

476 students supported in availing of various scholarships & government schemes.

2456 students supported with career guidance sessions.

662 school management committee members trained on “best practices”.

LOK SWAR runs a dedicated self-supported program for supporting the children from various walks of life to create a bright future for them.

We ensure that children are better guided, proper monitored and constantly supported to carve a bright future pathway.

“Creating Bright Future for the Underprivileged Children”

Educational Support, Counselling, availing various scholarships & government schemes

39 villages in 5 districts of Jharkhand

In a small village in Dhanbad, Rina, a bright student from an underprivileged background, faced an uncertain future after completing her high school education. Her aspirations to pursue higher studies seemed unattainable due to financial constraints.

LOK SWAR stepped in, providing Rina with comprehensive career guidance. Their counsellors helped her identify her strengths and interests, guiding her towards a career in engineering. They also assisted her in navigating the complex process of selecting and applying for scholarships.

With LOK SWAR's support, Rina applied for and won a prestigious scholarship that covered her tuition and living expenses. This financial aid enabled her to enroll in a reputable engineering college.

Today, Rina is excelling in her studies and is on track to becoming an engineer. Her journey from uncertainty to a promising future highlight LOK SWAR's crucial role in empowering students through career guidance and scholarship support.

“Carving path for bright future”

Training of the School Management committee (SMC) on the best practices has enabled them to create a lively environment for the growth of the children physically, mentally, emotionally, and socially in 39 villages of 3 districts in Jharkhand.

Natural Resource Management & Sustainable Livelihood

Our commitment to Natural resource management and its conservation lies in our thought that the most affected because of the degraded natural resources are the vulnerable and the marginalized communities. Thus, a managed natural resource means a sustainable livelihood for the local communities and thus ensuring no relapses of their lives and their families.

1445 farmers reached through various workshops, trainings, support provided.

542 farmers supported in availing government schemes.

2068 farmers trained on improved POP & Natural Farming.

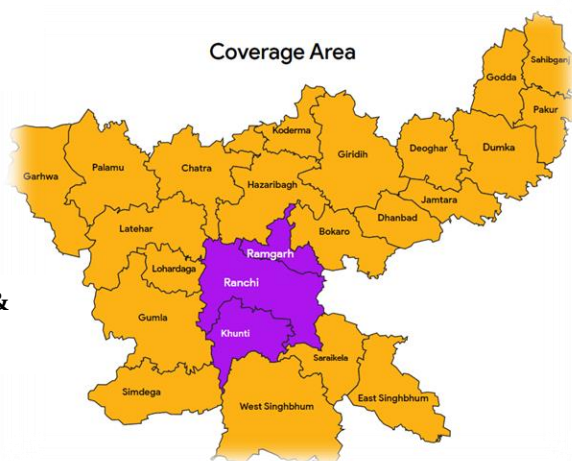

Supported by British Asian Trust, LOK SWAR through its migrant forum formed at each village that each migration that is happening is safe and sustainable by imparting trainings, workshops, FGDs through migrant forum. “Migrant forum is a platform created at each village level to help people avail various social security schemes under labour laws. Also, the family members of the migrating member is informed about employer type, type of benefit. It is being implemented in 10 villages of Ranchi District. Facility of supporting with convergence scheme to daily wage workers is also being implemented for ensuring safe migration.

“Making every Migration Safe”.

Through our self-supported program, we are ensuring that farmers are provided with support services on adapting sustainable farming practices and ensuring management of their natural resources through trainings, workshops, capacity building programs in 58 villages of 3 district.

Rajesh, a small-scale farmer in Khunti, struggled with low productivity and poor profits. His traditional farming methods were ineffective against unpredictable weather and soil degradation.*

LOK SWAR intervened, introducing Rajesh to a comprehensive package of practices designed to enhance agricultural productivity. They trained him in modern techniques like crop rotation, organic fertilizers, and efficient irrigation methods. Additionally, LOK SWAR assisted Rajesh in availing government schemes that provided financial aid and resources.

With these new practices and support, Rajesh's crop yields improved significantly. The financial assistance from government schemes allowed him to invest in better seeds and equipment. Consequently, his profits increased, enabling him to provide better for his family and reinvest in his farm.

Rajesh's success story underscores the transformative impact of LOK SWAR's agricultural guidance and support in accessing government schemes, leading to sustainable farming and improved livelihoods.
